

Community Coach Training

Make a real difference in someone's life

Volunteer coaches give formerly incarcerated community members the opportunity

- » for community support
- » the ability to build healthy relationships
- » to create hope for their future

Receive free training to learn needed skills for working one-on-one in helping provide referrals, emotional support and resources for former inmates. No experience, prior qualifications or education is needed.

All that is needed is the desire to help.

The most important characteristics that a community coach possesses are

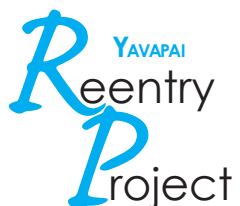

- » a listening ear
- » an open mind
- » a caring heart

The Community Coach program has proven to be tremendously successful in Yavapai County. If you are interested in making a real difference in your community and having a positive impact on a person's life, please contact the Yavapai Reentry Project.

Three Reasons to Become a Community Coach

1. You make a real difference in your community.

Over 95% of YRP program participants have not reoffended. That is 600% below the average rate of recidivism for inmates returning to Yavapai County.

2. You have a positive impact on a person's life.

"The Yavapai Reentry Project was out there to help [reentering individuals] and get us back into the community. Knowing that that was out there was a relief."

"The Yavapai Reentry Project offered me a sense of direction and gave me a feeling of purpose. It gave my family a sense of serenity to know that there was an organization willing to help me even though I had—well because I had a history in prison!"

3. You help shape the lives of children.

Children who have a parent who has been imprisoned have a better than 50% chance of going to prison themselves.

Helping re-establish healthy family relationships for an ex-offender helps reduce those chances.
